

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."—Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice. No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

WHAT HE CONSIDERED FAIR

Mr. Olsen's Offer Must Have Come as Surprise Even to Persuasive Claim Agent

Up in Minnesota Mr. Olsen had a cow killed by a railroad train. In due season the claim agent for the railroad called.

"We understand, of course, that the deceased was a very docile and valuable animal," said the claim agent in his most persuasive claim-agent-like manner, "and we sympathize with you and your family in your loss. But, Mr. Olsen, you must remember this: Your cow had no business being upon our tracks. Those tracks are our private property and when she invaded them she became a trespasser. Technically speaking, you, as her owner, became a trespasser also. But we have no desire to carry the issue into court, and possibly give you trouble. Now, then, what would you regard as a fair settlement between you and the railroad company?"

"Vall," said Mr. Olsen slowly, "Ay been poor Swede farmer, but Ay shall give you two dollars."—"Everybody's."

A Logical Landlord. Many a tenant will sympathize with the man in this story, from the Philadelphia Record. He was renting a small house which the landlord had refused to repair. One day the owner came to see him.

"Jones," he said, "I shall have to raise your rent."

"What for?" asked Jones, anxiously. "Have taxes gone up?"

"No," the landlord answered, "but I see you've painted the house and put in a new range and bathtub. That, of course, makes it worth more rent."

The Difference. "I don't see any difference between you and a trained nurse except the uniform," said her sick husband.

"And the salary," she added, thoughtfully.—Harper's Bazar.

We often hear the expression, "As poor as a church mouse." But even a church mouse doesn't have to live on the collections.

COTTON JUMPS UPWARD.

Census Report of Bales Ginned Creates Sensation in Market—$2.50 Bale.

New York—The census bureau report, showing only 5,410,960 bales of cotton ginned to October 18 this year, against 5,530,000 bales last season, started a fresh buying movement in the cotton market and prices, which had recently declined over one cent a pound, shot up in a sensational manner on a revival of bull support and heavy outside demand.

December contracts showed an advance of about $2.50 per bale. The trade had been looking for ginning figures of nearly 6,000,000 bales in line with recent increased estimates of the crop, and the figures actually published correctly revived the small estimates of a total crop of 11,000,000 bales or even lower, which were circulating early in the season.

3,500 Geese in One Flock. Mayesville, Ky.—An unusual spectacle—a parade of 3,500 geese—was witnessed here. The fowls, which came from the mountains of eastern Kentucky, were lured through the streets by a man dropping corn. The geese were unloaded from a car in the Louisville and Nashville railroad yards after making the night hideous with their noise. They were taken to a farm six miles from this city to be fattened for the Eastern markets. Before railroad geese were marched many miles often.

Express Drivers on Strike. New York—A riotous demonstration in which two strike-breakers were badly injured marked the third day of the strike of drivers and helpers of the United States Express Company at Hoboken, N. J. Eight wagons, guarded by private detectives and manned by strike-breakers, were assailed by a crowd of strikers and their sympathizers, and stones and other missiles were hurled at the wagon crews and detectives. A detail of policemen cleared the crowd. The strike is for shorter hours and an increase in pay.

Lookout Federal License Holders. Knoxville, Tenn.—Quite a panic resulted among the proprietors of soft drink stands in Knoxville as a result of supreme court decisions which held that the holding of a federal license was prima facie evidence in Tennessee of the illegal sale of liquor. Attorney General Minatt stated that no less than 40 proprietors had surrendered the license and that 40 others had notified him that they would do so.

And Garment Makers Strike. Chicago—With 15,000 garment workers on a strike the police force about all the shops affected has been materially strengthened. Thomas A. Rickett, international president of the United Garment Workers of America has arrived in the city to direct the plans for a walkout of 30,000 more unless a settlement of the controversy is brought about before that time. The strike will affect the price and trade of wearing apparel.

Crippen to be Hanged Nov. 8. London—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, will be hanged on November 8. The date originally announced was November 15, but the sheriff advanced the day one week.

Drives Tacks in Head. Atlanta—William Williams, a negro, is in jail here charged with swindling on account of the peculiar cure for blindness which he devised. His remedy consisted in driving a tack into the back portion of a blind negro's skull and charging $2.50 for the operation. Robert Ward, the victim, told the police court judge that the tack process was not very painful but that Williams' manner of taking the $2.50 "hurt considerably."

Doctor Will Hang For Murder. Savannah—Dr. W. J. McNaughton, who is under sentence to hang at Sylvania November 19, was brought here for safe keeping. There was no outward demonstration against the physician, who was convicted of murdering Fred Flanders to get his wife and money, but Sheriff Fields transferred the prisoner as a precaution. McNaughton was brought here immediately after the crime was committed, when there was danger of a lynching.

For Benefit Rice Growers. Beaumont, Tex.—At a meeting of rice growers from every section of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Arkansas here it was finally agreed to organize a central selling agency through which every producer will be pledged and bound to sell his rice. The object is to make a uniform price for rough rice and eliminate the middleman or broker. An executive committee is now formulating the cooperation plan and it will be completed before the committee leaves Beaumont.

NEED MONEY FOR GOOD WORK

Plans of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

What "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Souls" will do in providing some of the 275,000 beds needed at once in the United States for consumptives, is explained in a recent bulletin of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. There is just about one bed for every ten indigent consumptives, and if all tuberculous persons in the country are counted, both rich and poor, hardly one for every 25 or 30. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment fully 275,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis will be needed at once. The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, makes it imperative, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal, county or state. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals for tuberculosis, agitation is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organization may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed. These funds it is proposed to secure in as many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross seals.

REST AND PEACE

Fall Upon Distracted Households When Cuticura Enters.

The Most Noticeable Change. "So you have lived in Europe for 25 years? That's a long time for a man to be away from his own country."

"Yes, it is, and I'm mighty glad to be home again."

"I suppose you notice a great many changes?"

"Yes, many."

"What, if I may ask, is the greatest change that has come to your notice?"

"The greatest change, it seems to me, is to be found in the fact that the vice-president of the United States succeeds in getting his name in the paper nearly as often as he might if he were a baseball player or a promising lightweight prizefighter."

HEN'S NEST FOR EGG EATERS

Excellent Method Is to Place Light Swinging Doors in Front of Nest as Illustrated.

A good plan to prevent hens from eating their own eggs is shown in the illustration. Light doors are hung in the front of each nest. These swinging doors are attached to a rod which is supported in the front row of nests by hooks. This is to enable the owner to remove the doors so as to assist in cleaning. It is said that the hens like these nests after becoming accustomed to them, and that the device is a sure cure for egg eaters.

Egg eating by fowls sometimes becomes a serious vice. Chickens become fond of eggs after they have learned to eat them and the habit often spreads among a flock. It usually begins through accident by eggs being broken or frozen. Be careful to see that this does not happen. See that the nests are supplied properly with straw or other nesting material, and have them darkened so that if an egg is broken accidentally the fowls will not be likely to discover it. Supply plenty of lime in the form of oyster shells, bone or similar substances to insure a firm shell.

TO START FIRST INCUBATOR

Directions Followed Closely Will Result in More Chicks—Selection of Fresh Eggs Essential.

(By BESSIE L. PUTNAM) It is ready to work at any and all seasons; the oil to run it costs less than the food for hens doing the same amount of work; there is no trouble from vermin; broilers can be produced early without interrupting hatching when laying her highest priced eggs; the care of the incubator is less work than that of the hens to do its work, especially during the inclement season, and is more agreeable. These are some of the arguments in favor of the incubator.

On the other hand, a reliable hen will produce fewer cripples, and perhaps have better success if the eggs happen to not be perfectly fresh; yet on this point science is making rapid strides.

While it should not be necessary to sit up nights with the incubator, neither is it wise to treat it like a clock—to be wound up once a day and left to itself for the remainder of the time.

A cellar is apt to be damp and lack ventilation. A chamber makes too much running up and down stairs. If possible have it in a room adjoining the one where the work is done.

Good results come, if the kitchen is large enough, by placing the machine in one corner. Many successful poultry women give it a place in the living-room, and even the parlor may be used, as there is nothing unsightly or untidy about the work save the day or two during the hatching process; and then the interest makes amends for the temporary disorder.

Before buying, secure catalogues from several reliable dealers, study carefully the claims of the manufacturers and your own requirements.

Avoid the cheapest machine of any make. As a rule it is so small that it is difficult to secure uniformity of temperature in the egg chamber.

The nursery, an important adjunct, is usually lacking in the smallest machines. If one of the largest size is chosen it will be found cumbersome; it requires too long time for filling if your own eggs are used; if the hatch happens to be a poor one your loss is that much greater.

A machine of about 100-egg capacity is large enough for the beginner, contains all essential conveniences, and one can later increase the capacity if success attends the humbler effort.

Study both directions and machine thoroughly before starting the incubator. Have it on a firm, level foundation and remember that good ventilation and avoidance of drafts are as necessary to the chick in embryo as to the human being.

The experienced hand always runs an incubator a day or two before filling, to make sure that the parts are working properly. The novice with a new machine should not feel it time lost to wait until three days after she has learned to control the heat at or about the required notch. The germs are especially sensitive during the first few days, and undue heating will ruin the entire hatch.

The fresher the eggs the larger the percentage of chicks. Never use those over two weeks old, and two days is much better.

Uses the Ax.

A very prominent poultry man says he never has any disease among his poultry because he made it a practice to keep a good sharp ax always ready and by killing and burning any bird showing symptoms of any other than a simple trouble, and by maintaining strict cleanliness, and around the poultry quarters, he has stamped out disease.

Was Getting Monotonous.

A handsome woman who had been so unfortunate as to find occasion to divorce not one but several husbands was returning from Nevada. In Chicago she happens to meet her first husband, for whom, by the way, she always has entertained a real affection.

"Upon my soul, if it isn't Charlie!" exclaimed the ex-wife, cordially shaking hands with the gentleman whose name she formerly had borne. "I'm awfully glad to see you, Charlie!" Then, after a wistful expression had come to and been banished from her countenance, she added:

"Old chap, I've often wondered where you were and what you were doing. It was too bad we didn't get on better together. I hope your experience hasn't been as unpleasant as mine. I'm just sick and tired of marrying strangers!"

Now He Knows.

"On what grounds does your father object to me?" he asked.

"On any grounds within a mile of our house," she answered.
